

UNIVERSITY POLICE

The University of South Alabama has its own University Police Force (<https://www.southalabama.edu/departments/police/>). The mission of the University of South Alabama Police Department is to uphold the values of safety, security, and respect, fostering a campus environment that encourages academic success and personal responsibility. To achieve this mission, we are committed to the following:

1. Safety - We prioritize the safety and security of all students, faculty, staff, and visitors by implementing strong security measures and proactive policing to protect against potential threats and ensure a safe learning environment.
2. Communication - We foster a strong relationship with the campus community, actively engaging with students, faculty, and staff through open communication, listening to their concerns, and working together to address issues related to campus safety.
3. Professionalism - We maintain the highest standards of professionalism, ethics, and accountability among our officers by providing training and development to ensure they carry out their duties with integrity in their interactions with the campus community.
4. Support - We actively contribute to the development of the campus community by providing educational programs and resources that promote personal safety and responsible decision-making.
